Sister Encarnación: Where are your robes, Ignacio?

Nacho: They were... stinky. These are my recreational clothes.

Sister Encarnación: They look expensive.

Nacho: Thank you. I mean... they might have the appearance of riches, but beneath the clothes, we find a man... and beneath the man we find... his... nucleus.

Sister Encarnación: Nucleus?

Nacho: I was trying to!

Señor Ramon: You are useless Ignacio!

Elderly Monk: Silence brothers! This is the worst lunch I ever had.

Nacho: Ok. Orphans! Listen to Ignacio. I know it is fun to wrestle. A nice piledrive to the face... or a punch to the face... but you cannot do it. Because, it is in the Bible not to wrestle your neighbour.

Chanchito: So you've never wrestled?

Nacho: Me? No. Come on. Don't be crazy. I know the wrestlers get all the fancy ladies, and the clothes, and the fancy creams and lotions. But my life is good! Really good! I get to wake up every morning, at 5AM, and make some soup! It's the best. I love it. I get to lay in a bed, all by myself, all of my life! That's fantastic! Go. Go away! Read some books!

Sister Encarnación: You went to watch a wrestling match?

Nacho: [after a pause] Kind of.

Sister Encarnación: You are a man of the clothe. Lucha Libre, it's a sin.

Nacho: But, why?

Sister Encarnación: Because those men fight for vanity, for money, for false pride.

Nacho: Yes it's terrible, terrible. But is it always a sin to fight?

Sister Encarnación: No. If you fight for something noble, or for someone who needs your help, only then will God bless you in battle.
